[DATE/TIME]

Link2 provides safety, stabilization, coping support, and linkage to services.

Link2 uses culturally responsive motivational interviewing skills (open-ended questions, reflective listening, affirmations) to build authentic relationships with students.

Based on previous research, children who receive Link2 have increased connectedness to an adult at school and reduced symptoms of stress.

Through Link2, school personnel protect and nurture at-risk children by engaging in positive interactions with students to address psychological and developmental needs.

ABOUT THIS RESEARCH STUDY:

Researchers are developing a culturally sensitive program called Link for Equity to help schools best support children of color. The program is designed to help children of color deal with life experiences, so they can thrive in school.
